How to Prepare for an Online Class

How To Prepare for an Online Class

- Set-Up Your Computer

Run the SET-UP WIZARD to ensure that the audio and other computer settings will work correctly. You will need earphones or speakers to hear the instruction and other students' comments and questions. Alternatively, you can dial in using a local Vancouver phone number and PIN - please let us know if you need that information. Mac Users, please note the Safari browser works best with this software.

- Connect to Library

Please make sure to connect to the myVPN or the library proxy server, so that you can access the UBC Library resources.

- Log-in 5 minutes before class

Log-in 5 minutes early to make sure everything is working properly. When you log-in, type a nickname or alias in the Participant Login box. This class may be recorded and archived for your use and others in your class. By using a nickname or alias, this will better protect your privacy.

Comments...

- the ability to both write and talk to the instructor and other students ...as realistic as possible (i.e. putting up your hand to ask questions, laugh, etc.)
- The most helpful was hearing the voice of a warm body!I desperately miss the learning that occurs through face to face interaction
- ... having this experience be as realistic as possible (i.e. putting up your hand to ask questions, laugh, etc.)

- ☐ Lock Talk (use CTRL to mute)

Welcome & introductions

- Welcome and thank you for coming to this RefWorks session.
- Can everyone hear me?
- I've taught RefWorks many times but only a few times using Wimba classroom so I'm very interested in any feedback you have about the experience. [survey]
- Technical support: if you have problems with Wimba, feel free to send a message.
- Round of introductions: name and department. If you have a mic, please feel free to use it. If not, you can type your hello using the chat box on the lower left of the screen.

Wimba Classroom logistics

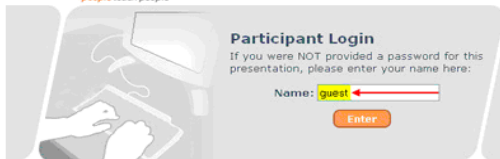

- My plan is to demonstrate RefWorks so I'll be sharing my screen with you.
- I'd like you to be able to follow along in your own RefWorks account and to search for articles, so please open two other windows or tabs.
- Archiving? I also wanted to ask your permission to record the session. I would like to review it for my own improvement but also to make it available for others to learn.
- Does anyone have any questions before we begin?

Statistics for RefWorks

- Live sessions: average 8 participants in Wimba vs. 11 in person
- Archived recordings: ~ 50 views of 20+ minutes

Feedback for RefWorks

- ☺ “Convenience. The technology worked surprisingly well. I'm not used to computer based instruction working well. The screen sharing was VERY important and helped a lot.”
- ☹ “Seemed awkward to ask questions sometimes because the instructor seemed to have moved on at some points where I was still stuck because she couldn't see the confusion on my face. On the other hand, the semi-anonymity made me less shy about participating.”

Teaching with Wimba Wiki

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the 'FrontPage' workspace on the teachingwithwimba.pbworks.com website. The page is titled 'FrontPage' and was last edited by Katherine Miller 8 minutes ago. It features a central image of a red apple on a keyboard with the text 'Teaching With Wimba' and several links: 'Log-in for Rooms', 'Admin Log-in', 'Wimba Information & FAQs', 'Best Practices', and 'Teaching With Wimba Log Book'. Below the image is a calendar for April and May. The right sidebar contains a 'Navigator' section with links to 'Home', 'Wimba Admin', 'Info/FAQs', 'Best Practices', and 'Teaching With Wimba Log Book'. Other sidebar sections include 'Create a page', 'Upload files', 'Invite more people', 'Share this page', 'Put this page in a folder', 'Add Tags', 'Control access to this page', 'Share this workspace', and 'Recent Activity'.

Trish's Laptop Settings

Trish has generously offered her laptop as a possible laptop to use for our online instruction. I just tested Trish's laptop with Sally to hear the sound quality for a presenter. Summary: sound works well to teach/present from, however, when you hear other's speaking there's a bit of static in the sound - but nothing that prevents you from hearing the other person's message.

A couple of lessons learned:

1) How to disable wireless on Trish's laptop. It has a slider button on the top right-hand side to activate/deactivate the wireless. You disable the wireless connection by switching that button off.

2) How to troubleshoot sound. We had trouble getting the sound to work (hearing). I checked the following: a) the sound wasn't muted on the laptop b) sound was on - on the microphone and insured they were both on. c) I also tested from another audio site

Best Practices

1. Be prepared!
2. Communicate with participants in advance
3. Avoid technical glitches
4. Make the session interactive
5. Archive the session

Discussion

- Thinking about your experience... do you have any best practices or suggestions?
- Thinking to the future... how do you see using Wimba in your teaching or for other purposes?

Thank you!
