2. College & University Business Administration / edited by Lanora F. Welzenbach. 4th ed., Washington, D.C. : National Association of College and University Business Officers, 1982. Resumen: "This is the authoritative reference manual for university administrators involved in establishing business procedures, including budget development. Although it contains little information directly relevant to library evaluation, the organizational structure, budgeting process, and administrative procedure recommended for and typical of most campuses is covered clearly. This work facilitates an understanding of the process that results in placement of the library within the institutional setting. It also describes the accounting practices often required of libraries."
